the fair could not be complied with on account of the absence of Governor Sayers, and this duty fell upon Mayor Cabell, who performed the part well. Besides being "Children's" it was "ex-Confederate Day" and thousands of both classes filled the grounds, the two making a contrast that was interesting in the extreme. The program of the ex-Confederates was listened to with rapt attention. After the adfires of welcome by Mayor Caleli and appropriate music, eloquent speeches were made by State Senator Barry Miller, Colo W. L. Crawford and R. E. Beckham. A gold button was sold at another to Colo-el C. C. Slaughter for $300, another webs $50 and numerous others brought smaller Longview, Texas, September 22,-"It is stated that Mr. Brran paid the sum of $5 for the newspaper known as the Watchman, published at Washington. The Watchman was originally the Silver Knight and was owned and edited by Senator Stewart of Nevada. Its place of publication was lo Alexandria, a few miles from Washington, on the Virginia side of the river. It was intended to be the 'free silver' organ of the country, but so many democratic papers became such organs that the original intentions of its foundations were prevented. It was then that Senator Stewart removed the outfit to Washington, where it was to go on the watch tower and to protect the people against any sneaking tent that the problem with Stewart was wholly as to how he should rid nimself of it. It is barely possible that he made a gift of it to his old friend and champion of the white metal, assuring tim, in order to got him to take it, that the power of his name would eventually make it a paying property. There are a great many newspapers far better than the Watchman which could be bought for 50 permore.

Its first leap to notoriety as a National

Its first leap to notoriety as a National publication was when the alliance was at its high water mark in this country, when McCune organized a company and deeped the alliance people and began the publication of his paper on North Capitol street. In Washington. He made a great success out of it for some time, his subscription going over the 100,000 mark with some 5000 exchanges on his list. Many of its attacks on the old parties, and especially those on the old parties, and especially those on the disconstraic party, were reproduced by the News, when the News was posing as an independent republican paper.

When the alliance began to wane, and the once mighty McCune saw his fondest he condit no longer fleeve the unsuspecting, which was the organ of the then portion of the republican party who favored the free cainage of silver and hended by such men as Teller. Jones. Stewart, Towne, Shafuch et al., all of whom contributed more or less to the success of the paper. In 1888, when conditions began to shape themselves politically so the column ensists that the great battle of 1800. To that end a conference of democratic was called in Washington, D.
